The NV 50 Years Very Old Tawny Port, the newest category for old blended Tawnies, displays a bright amber-green border followed by its complex, intense nose with some iodine notes, traces of lanolin, hints of peat and carob bean notes. It's dense and complex and combines bitter with sweet sensations with a touch of rusticity and a volatile hint in the finish. This blend feels younger than the single-harvest wines, more refined, elegant and nuanced, with less oxidation. It has 20.4% alcohol, a pH of 3.44, 1.06 grams of volatility and 112 grams of sugar. This is limited to 150 bottles per year and bottled to order.
